

NEW SERIES---NUMBER 83

To sow grain with this Seeder no extra hand is required to clean it from pith as this is all done by the driver without stopping or getting off his seat.

THERE is a pleasing contrast between the way a good honest democrat acts when he is nominated for an office and the way a republican does under similar circumstances. The former if he is holding office straightway resigns, the latter holds on to a certainty as long as possible and makes his calling and election sure before he thinks of such a thing. We are forcibly reminded of this in the case of Gen. Stoneman, who has been given the democratic nomination for governor of California and Secretary of the Treasury, Folger, who has been nominated for governor of New York. Gen. Stoneman held a Colonel's commission on the retired list of the army which paid him $3,500 per annum and which he has promptly given up. Folger continues to hold the office given him by Arthur and is using that office to promote his election. The difference is just that between an honest man and a rogue.

JUSTICE is so seldom meted out with promptness and dispatch in this State, that it should be chronicled and commended whenever it is done. Doud Graves about two weeks ago shot and killed almost without provocation, one Rolla Rose, of Madison. He was arrested and the grand jury being in session, he was at once indicted. His trial followed in a short time and in less than ten days from the time of the killing, he was en route to the penitentiary to serve a term of 21 years or as long as Blackburn shall see fit. If the law could always be as quickly vindicated and as surely, crime would cease in a great measure and the "dark and bloody ground" might change its appellation to one more encouraging of immigration.

THE Danville Tribune is disgusted with Mr. Billy O'Bradley for withdrawing and says his action is almost universally condemned by republicans and is regarded by democrats as a flat back-down and an acknowledgement of defeat. We suppose, however, that the Tribune is at heart glad to have him out of the race, as the support it gave him was solely because of Bradley's politics and not for love of Bradley as a man. His decided preference for Linney for postmaster and his efforts in his behalf and against the interests of brother Murphy, were not calculated to make him love Bradley overly much and he didn't.

JOHN GAINES seems never to feel well unless he is sniffling gore. He has not been running his Bowling Green paper a month before he denounces a brother editor as a liar and a slanderer and gets called a dog in return. Hughes, the editor of a republican paper there is the object of his wrath at present, and as Hughes has published a card stating where he can be found at all hours, we suppose, judging from Gaines' previous actions, that he will not be long in seeking him.

THE Louisville Exposition's Press Rooms under the management of Hon. M. W. Larue, of the Sunday News, is one of the pleasantest places to spend an hour that we know of, which proves that the right man is emphatically in the right place. The exhibits this year are larger, more comprehensive and of a higher order than we have ever seen in Louisville and we are glad to know that the attendance is greater than ever before.

TWO white republicans did not have the nerve to put up one of their number against Blackburn in the Seventh District, so they met in Lexington Friday and nominated a negro, the Rev. J. W. Asbury, of Cynthiana. He would never have been nominated had there been the slightest show for his election and the negroes generally will see that the empty honor was intended merely for a bait.

THERE are already seven candidates for Register of the Land Office, four for Attorney General, a dozen or so for Leut. Gov., with election nearly a year off and not one half of the back counties heard from. Truly the hope of being elected to office springs eternal in the breast of the average Kentuckian.

THE Harrodsburg Enterprise calls him Judge J. M. Owsley, the editor probably thinks stands for James Madison. That wouldn't be a bad name, but it is not so nice as the proper one. "Michael H. Owsley, the next governor of Kentucky, at your service, sir."

THE Lexington Press says we are spiteful and ill-natured when anybody opposes Mr. Barnes. Not so; but we do hate to see a fellow try to obtain a little notoriety by pulling down a man whose sole mission on earth is to do good.

THE pernicious and costly example of Gen. Grant in abandoning the seat of Government, and in turning over the great public business to irresponsible clerks for months, has been adopted by Gen. Arthur as worthy of imitation. He and his Cabinet, with temporary exceptions, have been absent from Washington since the adjournment of Congress, and most of them are still wandering in distant parts of the country. The President is paid fifty thousand dollars a year, and is furnished with all the equipments for a luxurious household at the public expense, with a contingent fund of eight thousand dollars per annum, which is practically an addition to the salary. The Cabinet receive eight thousand a year, and enjoy many privileges and perquisites little known to the public. These officials are servants of the people, and nothing more, whatever airs they may put on. The President and Secretaries take oaths to perform their duties faithfully. They are supposed to be present to perform them. They draw the pay with punctilious regularity, and we agree with the New York Sun that they should be made to earn it.

It may be mentioned as one of the signs of the times, that President Garfield's widow has lately purchased an elegant residence on one of the most fashionable avenues in Cleveland, for the sum of $50,000 cash. [Sunday Argus. Yes, and our o'er sentimental Congressman can hardly wait for Congress to meet to make her another appropriation. It is so easy to give away other people's money.

THE Covington Commonwealth thinks the fact that John D. White does not consider Matt Adams a gentleman, is the best evidence in the world that he is and ought to increase Adams' standing and popularity everywhere. Jess so.

THE "widow Callahan," of Texas has 50,000 head of sheep, and is the largest individual owner in sheep in the country. Twice a year long trains of wagons take the wool product to San Antonio.

THE Elizabethtown News remarks that the Wickliffe Tribune is a "shaky" concern, because it failed to appear last week for the reason that the whole establishment was stricken down with the chills.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—There were 120 failures in the U.S. last week.

—At Philadelphia one of the star routers was convicted.

—Wm. F. Barrett, a distinguished lawyer of Louisville, is dead.

—It is believed the public debt reduction for September will reach $15,000,000.

—The assessment of the Illinois railroads, which embrace 7,539 miles, is fixed at $56,727,530.

—Hon. John G. Simball was appointed by the Governor to fill the unexpired term of Vice Chancellor Pope.

—The Courier-Journal is spreading itself. It now has a branch office in Cincinnati, with W. J. Lampton at its head.

—The grand jury of Jefferson county signed a paper censuring the miserable management of the Anchorage Asylum.

—The Grand Lodge of Masons meets in Louisville on Tuesday, October 17, and the Grand Chapter on Monday, Oct. 16.

—The show case of C. O'Connell, jeweler, was robbed at the Cincinnati Exposition of $9,000 worth of diamonds and the thieves are still at large.

—There have been 783 cases of yellow fever and 78 deaths at Pensacola. The disease is still spreading. In Texas, its fury appears to be abating.

—Rev. H. O. Hoffman, of Lincoln Illinois, on trial for seducing his house girl, has been found guilty and expelled from the Methodist ministry.

—The Prohibitionists have called a conference in Louisville for Oct. 13, to consider the expediency of nominating a full ticket at the next State election in Kentucky.

—The arrest made in Caldwell county, Ky., proves to be the genuine Jim Cummings of the Jesse James gang, and he will be sent to Missouri for trial for his many train robberies.

—P. W. Phelps, one of the wealthiest men of Butler county, hitherto indicted for forging a timber contract, has been convicted of the crime and his punishment fixed at two years in the penitentiary.

—A Commission consisting of L. S. Howell, Green Clay Smith and others has been appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to select a site for the Louisville Custom House for which $500,000 was appropriated by the last Congress.

—Theodore Bonta and Winter Brewer fired several rounds at each other in Mercer Saturday, in which Bonta was slightly grazed in the arm and the leg of the horse on which he sat was broken. Brewer's intimacy with Bonta's wife, who has left him is the alleged cause of the trouble.

—J. Booker Reed, of this city, has been selected as Chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee. He is a young man with a practical knowledge of political affairs and no end of git-up-and-git. He will install new life into the committee and make the fight a rattling one all along the line. [C. J.]

—The Blackburn pardon bill is running at a lively rate. Yesterday three convicts from Kenton county, convicted of the gravest crimes, were pardoned out of the penitentiary. What influence was brought to bear is at this writing unknown; but the Assistant Secretary of State gets $2 for each pardon issued. [Covington Commonwealth.]

—An English engineer was sentenced to ten years imprisonment at Vera Cruz for causing a collision on the Mexico and Vera Cruz Railroad.

—Eight negroes have died of wounds received in the riot at Lancaster, S. C. which occurred as Col. Cash, the duelist and independent candidate, was speaking.

—The assessment of the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R., is fixed at $12,000 per mile; the Richmond Branch at the same and the Cincinnati Southern at $30,000 per mile.

—The Kentucky Republican has gone up the flume, because it did not receive a sufficient support to justify its continuance. Capt. Neale, the editor, gets a fat berth in Col. Swope's office.

—At Jefferson Springs, Ark., an old farmer, P. L. Dunn, whose wife had abandoned him, put the muzzle of a loaded pistol in his mouth, pulled the trigger and ended his earthly misery.

—It has been decided to retain for the present 12,000 men in Egypt to carry on and consolidate the work for which the suppression of Arabi Pasha does little more than clear the way.

—Four members of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club, last week made a ride of 118 miles through the country near Boston. This is the longest single day's ride ever accomplished in this country.

—The value of stamps, envelopes, cards, etc., sold by the Post office department during the fiscal year recently closed amounted to $39,533,317.21, an excess of nearly five millions over the year previous.

—A committee of Brooklyn Young Republicans called on Secretary Folger, and requested that he withdraw from the candidacy for Governor of New York. He said he couldn't, which is taken as settling the question.

—Hon. Carter H. Harrison, the popular Mayor of Chicago, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Third Congressional District. Mr. Harrison is a native Kentuckian, and has served two terms in Congress.

—The monument over the grave of a daughter of ex-President Tyler, at Hollywood Cemetery, near Richmond, Va., was broken by a vandal who left as a written excuse for the act that he took exception to it as a work of art.

—John D. White, and Matt Adams are so much "out" that there will be no joint canvass. Mr. White said yesterday that he did not consider Adams a gentleman. They are going to send out a party of national engineers soon to search for something in this world that suits White besides himself, and what he does. They won't find anything. [Louisville Commercial.]

—The steamer, R. E. Lee, the largest and swiftest on the Mississippi River, burned to the water's edge, 35 miles below Vicksburg, at 3 A. M., Saturday, destroying the lives of 21 persons and its valuable cargo, which included 512 bales of cotton. The fire originated in the pantry and the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to awaken the sleeping passengers and run the boat in before she was entirely consumed. She originally cost $180,000.

GARRARD COUNTY.

Lancaster.

—Mr. Eugene Land, a wealthy gentleman of Fayette county, was married today to Miss Belle Smith, a very estimable young lady of lower Garrard.

—The contract for building three miles on the extreme end of the Lancaster and Buckeye Turnpike has been awarded to Mr. H. C. Haynie, of Madison county at $2,150 per mile and the work will begin at once.

—"Hogback" was the name of a post-office opened in this county, but the people of the neighborhood preferred the inconvenience of a few miles travel for their mail to the convenience of an office with such a name, hence it is no more.

—Mr. Dudley Portwood and family left last week for Terrell, Texas, where he has a stock ranch and interests in a big stone quarry. Sam Duncan has been appointed a U. S. store-keeper in the Louisville District. The accomplished and fascinating Miss Maria Belle Doty, of Hyattsville, has returned from a protracted visit to Lexington and other points. Mr. Barclay, of Fayette, is visiting his sister, Mrs. F. O. Young. Messrs. H. G. Sandifer, Hubert McGowan and other Masons of Danville, were in the procession at the burial of Dr. Burdett.

—W. L. Kavanaugh has just returned from a trip through Tennessee. He was on the train with the Sheriff who was killed by the Taylor brothers in order to rescue their brother who was being taken to the penitentiary. After the shooting Kavanaugh was the only passenger left in the coach beside the murderers, one of whom approached him and asked if he had any money, to which he replied, "yes, he had a little but was a long way from home and needed it." Taylor thought under the circumstances his (T's) needs were more pressing and Kavanaugh had to fork over $30 but feels satisfied he will get it again.

—The death of Dr. Steven L. Burdett occurred at his home near here on Saturday, Sept. 30th. The Doctor's illness began with the Sellers' riot at which time, while going across town to attend a wounded man at the Court-house, he was fired upon by a crowd of negroes and severely wounded in the leg. By this he was rendered a cripple and his health declined very fast. Thinking a change of climate would be beneficial to him he went to Florida several years ago and bought a farm which he stocked with orange and other fruits and which place he has made his home during the winter, returning to Kentucky in the summer. In this manner his life has probably been prolonged several years, but his death at any time would not have been a surprise. Until within the last week he expected to return to Florida within a few days, but God ruled otherwise, and his last moments were passed among his relatives and friends by whom he was loved and appreciated. He leaves a widow (having married since his residence in the South), who was a model of devotion, but no children. The funeral was preached by Eld. J. L. Allen of the Christian Church, assisted by Rev. J. R. Peoples, of the Methodist Church, Sunday at 3 o'clock, P. M., after which the body was buried with Masonic honors. He was an Odd Fellow also, and that Order was to have assisted at the burial but unforeseen circumstances compelled the burial a day earlier than had been announced and its members were not prepared.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Hustonsville.

—Messrs. Riffe & Mounce shipped to Cincinnati last week one car load cattle, and one ditto sheep. T. Carpenter shipped at same time one car load heavy cattle. They report a good market, but the prices obtained were not communicated.

—I inadvertently did injustice to my friend Will Cloyd when I stated that the Dunn-Hunn marriage ceremony was performed by Mr. Williams. As Will is very young and a bachelor, he deserves credit for the nerve with which he bound another in bonds of which he fights shy himself.

—Wm. Craig (colored), sowed 11 bushels Fultz wheat on 11 acres. From this he threshed 171 bushels, 100 of which he delivered at the McKinney mill on Saturday, at 90 cents per bushel, and received a premium as having the best wheat received there this season. The remainder of the crop was eagerly taken by neighbors for seed, at $1.

—Rev. J. C. Randolph, of Danville, was here last Wednesday night, and treated our people to a presentation of his theory of the "Second Advent." I was not in town and hence missed the opportunity to hear, and am thus unable to speak of the performance. Many, however, whose opinions I have heard, seem to have been very favorably impressed.

—Wheat sowing is progressing rapidly now that the ground seems to be in a yielding mood. Corn cutting is also getting lively. As usual, most of the hogs in this section will be pushed for an early market. The supply of this interesting quadruped is short, but dread of the remorseless cholera, together with 9 and 10 cents gross on the grunt will speedily reduce the number.

—I was conducted on Saturday through the mercantile establishment of D. S. Jones & Sons, at McKinney, and was astonished at the extent, neatness, convenience and system of their arrangements. They certainly deserve credit for the taste, skill and energy displayed in their enterprise, and, but if they will just give me a hint in that direction I will take pleasure in giving vent to my pent up feelings in the form of a truthful and reliable "ad."

—An apology is due to our handsome young teacher, La Fayette Page. My ambiguous notice of his tea drinking has suggested a doubt as to his sobriety. Now I can not be instrumental in casting such a blot on so fair a Page. The allusion was to a little episode well understood here. Mr. P. who does not drink coffee, happened to visit a young lady just about supper time. She, being doubtless fluttered by his unexpected appearance, in her haste to prepare his favorite beverage, got hold of the ginger canister instead of the tea caddy. Of course it was a rather pungent cup she presented him; and the tears he shed on drinking fully attested the sincerity of his feelings.

—The statement that the Pine Hill Coal Company had suspended operations, published in this column, is incorrect, as the company is still shipping large quantities of coal and expects to do a booming business this Fall and Winter.

—On the street Saturday, one citizen (from the country) remarked that he had that morning "seed a tremendous blazin' star" in the Eastern sky. Another citizen (also from the country) observed that he had also "seed" it and guessed it must be another one of them durned "McCormicks." These citizens had evidently seen the "Laundress."

—Hons. Matt Adams and John D. White passed through here Saturday evening en route to Manchester, where Adams opened the canvass yesterday. Both were warmly greeted by their respective friends here. Adams was looking in splendid trim and expressed himself as perfectly confident of success. Our people of both parties take a lively interest in the race in the 10th.

—The entire line from Boone's Gap to Roundstone Junction has been located. The contractors will begin work in earnest this week. About 100 negroes arrived last week on Taylor's contract. Tabler, Rosser, Stewart and Mason, Shannahan & Co. are the contractors so far known, whose work is in this county. Work on the first tunnel below Langford's began yesterday morning. This tunnel is called the Needle's eye.

—ABOUT PEOPLE.—Miss Zula Williams has returned from Louisville. Mrs. C. S. Neild, of Harrodsburg, was here Sunday on a visit to her parents. Messrs C. Crooke, of Pine Hill, and C. S. Neild, of Altamont, went to Louisville on business yesterday. Mr. M. F. Brinkley, of Louisville, was here yesterday, receiving warm greetings from his old friends. M. N. Langford went to Louisville yesterday on a business trip. Mr. Bennett Wilson, of Missouri, is visiting relatives in this county.

WHY don't the republicans nominate George W. Gentry for Congress? It is an empty honor that they might put out as a bait for the gullible colored people.

J. T. HARRIS will have fish and oysters Wednesdays and Saturdays. He also keeps the Commercial Hotel, will feed well and charge reasonable. Call and see. Meals ready when the last bell rings.

THE mill at Hustonville is a fixed fact, and bids are advertised for it in this issue. The projectors are anxious to get it well advanced before cold weather and therefore asks that the bids be handed in at once. See "ad" in another column.

JOHN THOMPSON.—We had the pleasure of seeing this funniest of all the funny men at McAlister's Theatre, Louisville, a few years since and can promise our theatre-goers some hearty laughs when he appears with his company here Wednesday, the 11. See him and grow fat.

SOME SNAKES.—Mr. McDowell Jones, of Casey, called yesterday to tell us that on last Saturday, he discovered a rattlesnake under and with some companions, succeeded in capturing six of the venomous rattlers alive and killing five others. He says that 14 have been killed or captured at or near the spot.

TO THE CITIZENS OF STANFORD AND VICINITY.—The Lancaster Mills have concluded to give the public the advantage of wholesale prices on flour and meal in any quantity. Patent flour $3.25; Standard Beauty or Best Family, $2.50; Meal per bushel, 90 cents. All orders left at the Mill office will receive prompt attention and delivered wherever desired. Respectfully, McAlister & Sallee.

HARRISON HOCKER, not our well-known and highly respected citizen, but a negro of Turnersville precinct, who was indicted a year or two ago for Ku Kluxing and who left as soon as he found it out for parts unknown, imagined that the offense had been forgotten and forgiven, and returned to his old haunts a few days since where he was promptly "cabbaged" by Constable Bailey and lodged in jail here. He has since given bail for his appearance at Circuit Court.

COUNTY COURT.—The will of J. G. Owsley was probated yesterday and the executors named, Jacob Guest and Dr. J. B. Owsley, qualified as such. The property of decedent which is considerable, is divided among his relatives. Dr. W. W. Owsley, Jacob Guest, Dr. J. B. Owsley, S. E. Owsley, Mrs. Walker, J. W. Guest and children and the children of W. P. Owsley, deceased. A handsome set of Walnut furniture is given Mrs. J. B. Owsley, and his gold watch to Mrs. Asher Owsley. W. M. Higgins was appointed and qualified as Administrator of James Adams, and after some other minor transactions the Court, with the Magistrates present, sat at the Court of Claims, but adjourned without accomplishing anything till this a. m. at 10 o'clock. A poor house keeper is to be elected to-day and the Commissioner of Common Schools. For the latter office Rev. J. A. Bogle, J. M. Phillips, John Bright and Mr. S. D. Gooch are the candidates.

JOURNALISM IN STANFORD.—Strolling down Main street the other day, we ran against our jovial old friend, Capt. Thomas Richards, who wears very gracefully honours received in two wars, when he enquired after the running of our engine and remarked: "You didn't know I used to be a compositor, but such is the fact, and I was thinking yesterday of the progress that the printer's art had made in Stanford in a comparatively short space of time. In 1860, I recollect that the Chairmen of the Democratic Committee was very anxious to have the announcement printed that some distinguished speaker would address the good people on a certain day and he prevailed on me to try and get out a bill from the scattering remnants of a defunct newspaper office here. I made the attempt, but it took me all night to find enough of a 'sort' to do so and after the bill was set, it had to be printed with a 'plainer' and a beauty it was I tell you. That was just 16 years ago and now we have a Semi-Weekly newspaper occupying its own building and printed on a fast cylinder press, driven by steam. If all our improvements had been kept pace with the newspaper business, Stanford would be to-day about the largest city in the State. I congratulate you, my boy, on your success and apparent prosperity." We thanked the Captain and moved on, musing that our success was due more to a generous people, who are ever ready to help a man who is doing his best to succeed than to any special merit of our own.

McALISTER & SALLEE sell flour by retail and give their customers the benefit of wholesale prices. Now is your time to get it cheap.

DIVORCE suits continue to multiply. The last to be filed is that of Mrs. Joe Mc. Smith, who charges against her husband cruel treatment and a failure to provide. Mr. Smith is the proprietor of that well-known Summer resort "Hale's Well," so liberally patronized last season by the youth of this vicinity.

Hocker, President, J. W. McAlister, Cashier, John J. McRoberts, Asst. Cashier, and A. A. McKinney, Teller.

MARRIAGES.

—Levi Webster obtained license yesterday to marry Miss Allie Graham Pettis, the sweet sixteen year old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Pettis.

—MONTGOMERY — OVERSTREET.—Last night, at the residence of Mr. Charles Dunn, Mr. Andrew Whitley Montgomery and Miss Oretta Overstreet were united in marriage by Rev. I. S. McElroy. Mr. G. C. Givens and Miss Maggie Dunn acted as attendants. Immediately after the ceremony the couple came to town and registered at the St. Asaph, where they will remain for a few days. The bride is a pretty brunette of sweet disposition and the groom, who is the son of Dr. T. B. Montgomery, is one of the cleverest young men of the town. We extend our heartiest congratulations.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Kate Caldwell, wife of Hon. Isaac Caldwell, who is a sister of Mrs. Col. C. H. Rochester, of this place, died in Louisville, Friday, of Bright's disease, in her 44th year.

RELIGIOUS.

—The new organ for the First Baptist church, Lexington, cost $2,500.

—The Louisville Conference of the M. E. church, south, meets at Elizabethtown October 11.

—An attempt will be made to break the will of Mr. Smallwood, of Union county, which gives $175,000 to the Christian church.

—It is stated that the Baptist Church is a mighty element in Colorado, widening its borders every year, and the outlook is most encouraging.

—Mr. Barnes preached at the Grand Opera House, Sunday, and the newspapers estimate that fully 2,000 people were unable to obtain admittance.

—Rev. W. T. Tyne closed a meeting at Hall Church, Boyle County, Sunday, with 40 additions and raised about enough money to build a good house of worship.

—Dr. E. Q. Guernsey recently organized a Presbyterian church at New Hope, Nelson county, with twenty members, in a community where nearly all the people are Catholics.

—Rev. J. G. Livingston closed his two week's meeting at Goshen, Sunday night, after a glorious harvest of 61 souls. He will begin another meeting at Crab Orchard next Sunday.

—In his sermon in Plymouth Church Sunday night Mr. Beecher advised the young men of his congregation to rebuke Judge Folger at the polls, as having secured a nomination by the union of Avrice and Revere.

—An estimable lady died in this city last week, after a protracted illness, of a very painful disease, who was an inmate of Bro. Barnes' Pink Cottage, and was pronounced by the faith cure people to be healed of her malady.—[Sunday Argus.

—There will be no services at the Methodist church next Sunday, as Mr. Morrison will preach at Bright's School-house on that day. Thereafter, though, he will preach at Bright's on the 3rd Sunday in each month as has been done heretofore.

—There were added to the Southern Presbyterian Churches in the year ending recently, on profession of faith 6,062 persons, an advance of more than 1,200 over the previous year. There are 6,000 Elders and 4,000 Deacons in the church.—[N. Y. Herald.

—The meeting at Crab Orchard, conducted by Rev. J. M. Bruce, closed Sunday after lasting twenty-eight days. The result is twenty-eight additions to the Baptist church and several who will join other churches. The religious interest aroused in the community was never greater than at present.

—Carrie C. Graham, of Frankfort, who was fearfully afflicted with a cancer on her face and who was anointed by Rev. George O. Barnes, writes him that she has entirely recovered from the loathsome curse and is as well as ever. We understand from those who saw her while afflicted that nearly the whole of one side of her face had been eaten up.

—The Louisville Democrat says of the Rev. Reed's attack on the Rev. Mr. Barnes: "It was plain to be seen that love for notoriety was at the bottom of it. The world has learned to put a very low value on that sort of clerical pretensions. Brother Barnes is worth ten thousand such preachers as the Rev. Mr. Reed and Elder Howe.

—We had the pleasure in Cincinnati last week of again hearing the familiar voice of Rev. George O. Barnes and the sweet and tender notes of Miss Marie, as she sang those old songs so dear to all those who remember their three months meeting here several years ago. Services are held in Melodone Hall, corner 4th and Walnut, a handsome room capable of holding 1,000 persons, and at night services every seat is taken, while often many are forced to stand at the afternoon service which was attended, there were fully 500 present, and after a sermon which was characteristic of the great Evangelist some 40 persons came forward to ask specific blessings and be anointed. The latter ceremony having been added since Mr. Barnes was here, it may interest some of our readers to know how it is done. The invitation is extended to those who desire to be healed to come forward and take the front seats, while an appropriate song is sung. That over, Mr. B. takes a little vial from his vest pocket containing olive oil and putting a small quantity on his fingers, runs them across the forehead of those afflicted and asks, "Do you trust the Lord to heal you as best you can?" He then repeats the 14th and 15th verses of James v., and having gotten around he drops on his knees and takes it to the Lord. The number of confessions are not very large yet, but there is a deep and growing interest and the name of Barnes is often heard on the street corners and in the business houses. Miss Marie is at present suffering from a cold, but is not serious. Miss Georgia is taking painting and elocution lessons in the city, and is delighted to have something to engage her thoughts. Mrs. Barnes is well, and a more happy and contented family we have never seen. Mr. Barnes says there is plenty of work to keep him in the city for two months, but the length of his stay there like every thing else is left with the Lord.

In Memoriam.

—Died in Sacramento, Cal., of that fell destroyer, Consumption, Sept. 1, Henry B. Collier. It seems but yesterday, in our minds he left for a distant home among strangers to recuperate his health, adding joy and sunshine to the lives of all who knew him, but death came in the bloom of manhood, severing two young lives whose marriage had only been a few short months. Life's future to them seemed radiant with hope and glittering with joy. Only a few weeks before his death a bright babe was born to them that linked their lives closer together—to be left without a father's care. He will be sadly missed from that place which no other can fill. To his stricken parents, Moses and Mary Collier, of Garrard county, Ky., an only sister and brother, we would offer our deepest sympathy. "Thy God who doeth all things well and cannot err, that called him home, and though the cup be bitter 'tis best to say—"Father, thy will be done."

Farewell, Henry, we will meet on this earth no more. But may we meet in the great hereafter, beyond the shining shore.

Is the prayer of one who loved you, Lancaster, Sept., 1882. M. F. S.
